

The Horror in the Dungeon

One day Dave and his family went to an old castle. An old man guided them.

When the guided tour was over, Dave 's brother asked the man, "Where are the dungeons. We didn't see any." "It's better not to go there. There are many ghosts of murdered people. Dave and his family didn't believe this and so they went down. In the dungeon it was very dark and they couldn't see anything, but then Dave's father took out his torch and they could see that the dungeon was really spooky. There were many skeletons. Suddenly it was very cold and the torch went out. Then the door closed and was locked. First, it was very quiet but then they heard something. Suddenly the torch worked again and they could see what made the noise. Spiders crawled to Dave and his family. There were around a thousand spiders and they crawled very fast. Dave's mother and his sister began to cry because they were afraid of spiders. Dave's father ran to the door and shouted , " Old man please help us, "but the man didn't hear him. Suddenly they heard a howling. Five ghosts came in to the dungeon and said, "You didn't believe the old man. But he is right. We had to die because nobody believed us. So when you want to go out here, you must say that the man was right." "Yes, he was right.", the family shouted. In this moment the first spiders crawled up their legs. Suddenly all of them broke down.

When they woke up, they were in their beds. First they thought that their adventure was a dream but then they thought that it was strange that they all had had the same dream. So they drove to the castle. On the parking lot there were many police cars. Dave asked an officer what had happened. "An old man died. He was a tourist guide."

When he told his family what he found out, they came to the decision that now the man had someone who believed him. Then they went into the dungeon again. There weren't any spiders and the door had no lock.
